REFERENCES

The following references represent a selection of the many books, articles, and reports used to create Alutiiq Word of the Week lessons. They represent key sources of information on the Alutiiq world but are not the only references used in creating this work. We present them here to acknowledge their contributions and to help readers continue their exploration of Alutiiq culture and history. Ask your librarian for assistance in finding copies or visit the Alutiiq Museum to consult a reference in our library.

Much of the information assembled in this volume is unpublished. You will not find it in any other book. It comes from the wisdom of Kodiak community members. Elders, harvesters, storytellers, artists, cooks, anthropologists, historians, and scientists all shared their insights. We gratefully acknowledge their contributions. Similarly, the Alutiiq Museum’s original, ongoing research with the Alutiiq language, museum collections, and archaeological sites contributed substantially to the information presented here.
